Materials:

- ❖ Select a readymade, hand-knitted or crocheted blanket with an open knit so ribbon fringe can easily be added.
- ❖ Curating the fringe material is especially important as the fringe is the main focus. We shopped Esty to find colours and textures for both vintage and new material options.
 - A. Hand-dyed rayon ribbon maybe harder to find as it is no longer made. We paid $44.00 for 100 yards (1.5" wide) to make a single row fringe blanket border.
 - B. Hand-dyed recycled sari ribbon is readily available. We paid $11.00 for 75 yards and used 2 skeins to create a double row fringe blanket border (see finished blanket below).

How To Make It:

1- Open ribbon skein and prepare for cutting by placing skein on a hook or over the back of a chair so ribbon can be unwound without knotting up.

2- Cut ribbon in 10" or 12" pieces. We used approx. 100 10" pieces per blanket side.

3- Attach ribbon to blanket's edge using a lark's head knot. To create a lark's head knot, fold a piece of ribbon in half.

4- Starting on the second knitted row from the bottom of the blanket, insert the ribbon fold through the front side of the blanket to the back side.

5, 6- Thread the two ribbon ends through the ribbon loop (keeping ends even) and gently pull. Guide the loop up against the edge of the blanket. Pull both ribbon ends again to tighten and set the knot.

7- Leaving a few stitches between knots attach a second piece of ribbon.

8- Spacing the ribbon knots a few stitches apart will keep the knots even and use less ribbon.

9- Continue adding ribbon till both edges of the blanket are fringed.

Note: A tiny dot of glue can be added inside of each knot to hold it in place. Use a toothpick to insert dot of glue inside each knot then press lightly together. Be neat. Too much glue will ooze out and mar the ribbon.

10- For ribbons that are prone to fraying, tie an overhand knot about ½” up from the bottom of each ribbons end.

11- Trim any longer ends even or at least shorter, so ribbon fringe is somewhat uniform.

12- Blanket is now finished and ready to snuggle up in.

Sari Ribbon Fringe Border

Create a beautiful shabby chic fringe border using hand-dyed recycled sari ribbon.

2 to 3 skeins of sari ribbon will be needed. (75 to 100 yds each skein)

Cut sari ribbon into 12” lengths. Follow the above instructions to lark’s head knot the first row of sari ribbon onto the blanket.

For a fuller fringe border, knot a second row of sari ribbon approx. 1” to 1.5” above the first row.

Finished blankets make wonderful gifts. Choose a colour palette that reflects the recipient personal style.

Add handmade pillows.
